RESIGNATIONS IN OHIO REGIMENTS .- The following resignations of officers have been accepted to take effect from the 3d day of April, 1865:

1st Lieut. A. M. Reed, 50th Inf.; 1st Lieut. Thomas W. Saxton, 115th Inf.; 1st Lieut. Erasmus D. Stair, Co. B., 115th Inf., and

Capt, Findley Harrison, Co. E., 187th Inf.

DEPARTED FOR HONG KONG.-Isaac J. Allen, Esq., late editor of The State Journal, left the city on Tuesday last, for Hong Kong, China, to enter upon the duties of his appointment as Consul at that port. Mr. Allen is a gentleman of fine literary attainments, and of high social and genial qualities in private life. We wish him success in his mission to the antipodes, and a safe return to this side of the terraqueous globe.

POLICE COURT.-The following persons were brought before Mayor Bull yesterday morning:

John Ballard was fined for a breach of the peace; but, though unable to pay, in consideration of his being a soldier on his way to the tront, he was permitted to depart. E. H. Farr, for drunkenness, was fined $3 and costs, and committed. Martin Wilson, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was fined $3 and costs. Paid. Thomas Welch, for visiting a house of illfame, was fined $5 and costs, and committed.

CATHOLIC MISSION AT DAYTON .- We see by a notice in The Empire that a mission is thousands, many of whom will never forget their earnest admonitions and lucid expositions of the doctrines of the Catholic

THE COMBINATION CIRCUS AND MENAG-ERIE.—This mammoth exhibition was the point of great attraction yesterday afternoon and last evening. Its large canvass was literally crowded. All who witnessed it were highly delighted with the entertainment, and pronounce it unequaled, and throughout the State, to join them on the never surpassed. The menagerie contains occasion, in time to join in the procession the rarest and most curious specimens of to receive the remains, at 6 o'clock A. It is no exaggeration to say that this grand combination exhibition far surpasses any and all others ever presented to the amusement-loving, and curiosity-seeking public of this city.

ever been our lot to witness. It is got up that the Grand Lodge of Ohio will be preswith a picture of the gathering of the Angels around the Almighty's throne to hear a new decree, it illustrates Milton's immortal poem of Paradise Lost, from beginning to end. The scenes representing heaven, the war of the angels, and the casting out of Heaven of Satan and his hosts, are perfectly sublime. The scenes representing the creation are gotten up in a style and manner different from anything we have ever seen. We would call attention to the beautiful sunrise upon the young earth for the first time. The moonrise and the creation of fowls, fishes and the insects, and finally the creation of animals, and man, are all pictures worthy the study of an artist. The next fifteen scenes represent Satan's flight from Hell through Chaos to this earth. They are of immense power, and convey to the mind an awful and impressive idea of the infernal regions below. The last section, which represents the garden of Eden, and Adam and Eve, "clothed in naked majesty divine," is beyoud description the best thing we have ever witnessed. In fact, the whole exhibition is one of marked excellence, and should be seen by all. We doubt whether the Atheneum will hold all the people who clency in warming, quality of heat, econowill endeavor to gain entrance this evening. Go early, if you wish for a seat.

It is rare that so much artistic excellence in vocal music and dramatic representation is combined in a single company. This, any one who has been present at any of the is they have already given here, needs no prompting to say. The orchestra, taste in execution, for its want of numbers, Auber's great romantic opera, "Fra Dia-

Peter Martin's Hot Air Furnaces, Commendations from Mr. E. D. Kingsley, Superintendent of the Columbus Public Schools, and from H. H. Bar-ney, Superintendent of the Circle-ville Union School.

COLUMBUS, February 15th, 1865. To whom this may Concern:

Peter Martin, of Cincinnati, has placed his PATENT IMPROVED HOT AIR FURNACES in our High School and District School No. 5. The Furnaces in District No. 5 have been in use two years; those in the High School during this winter. So far they have given entire satisfaction. For effimy of fitel, and promptness of action, they deserve special commendation. I cheerfully recommend Mr. Martin's Furnaces to Opena House. CIRCLEVILLE, Feb. 16th, 1865. The Warm Air Furnace invented and manufactured by Mr. Peter Martin, of Cincinnati, was put into the Union school building of this city in November last, and thus far it has given entire satisfaction. It ugh not large, makes up in skill and surpasses other furnaces in the following important particulars: It has, comparatively, a greater heating surface; produces a larger volume of heat with a given amount to temperature, moisture and purity, is suply of warm air for the several rooms, and the fires, are more easily regulated.

To avoid scorching and decomposing the air, as is done, to some extent, by other hotair furnaces, and to secure to each room an abundant supply of pure, fresh air, warmed to a pleasant temperature, as well as to pro-tect the wrought-iron air-flues from the effects of the fire, it is essential that the warm air-flues leading to the school rooms, should be at least twelve inches in diameter. This will insure the influx of such a large and rapid current or fresh air as to prevent the wrought-iron flues from being overheated, and thus secure the durability of the furnace, and keep the warm air in a healthful condition. It is deemed proper to State in this connection, that our Board of Education was induced to or ler Mr. Martin's Furnace, because two other furnaces had been previously used in our school edifice without satisfactory results, and because, after a careful examination of a large number of furnaces and other modes of warming school houses and other public edifices, not only in Western, but also in Eastern cities, Mr. Martin's was

SYMPTOMS:

The symptoms of Catarrh as they generally appear are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition, the nose may be dry, or a slight dispharge, thin an acrid, afterwards becoming thick and adhesive. As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are nawked or coughed off. The secretions are oftensive; causing a bad breath; the voice is thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of the smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place.—Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or sliny mucus, which has fallen down from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should lose no time in arresting it.

Important Dispatch from General WAR DEPARTMENT. WASHINGTON, April 25 .- 10:25 P. M.

Major-General Dix: A dispatch has just been received by this Department, from Gen. Grant, dated Racured by the use of Dr. D. H. Seelye's Liquid eigh, 9 A. M. April 24. He says: I reached here this morning, and delivered to General Sherman the reply to his negotiations with Johnston. Word was immediately sent to Johnston, terminating the truce, with in-formation that civil matters could not be entertained in any convention between the Army Commanders. [Signed]

E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

The Sherman-Johnston Basis. New York, April 26 .- A special to the Times from Washington says: We have in-formation from Sherman's army of an important character. It appears that John-ston's first letter to Gen. Sherman proposed the surrender of his army on the same terms on which Leesurrendered. A meeting was arranged, at which Wade Hampton was present. He protested against the terms of surrender, and declared he would not surrender his cavalry force, supposed to be about 3,000 strong. Thereupon Sher-man consented to delay for the purpose of giving Johnston and Hampton an opportunity to consult Davis. Another meeting was arranged for next day. On that day the parties again met, and at the first sitting the remarkable memorandum or basis of agreement was presented and at once signed.

The World's Raleigh correspondence of the 19th says: The conferences between Sherman and Johnston have come to a conclusion, which is believed in the army to be eminently satisfactory. What passed at the interviews they had is probably known only to themselves. When they met they locked arms, walked together into the house where the conferences took place, and there shut themselves up for several hours, leaving

Gen. Sherman's Order Announce ing the Assassination of President Lincoln. NEW YORK, April 25 .- The following is

General Sherman's order announcing the assassination of President Lincoln: HEADQ'RS MIL. DIV. OF THE MISSISSIPPL! IN THE FIELD, RALEIGH, April 17.

Special Field Order No. 50.] The General commanding announces with pain and sorrow that on the evening of the 14th inst., at the theater in Washington City, his Excellency the President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, was assassinated by one who utterred the State motto of Virginia. At the same time the Secretary of State, Mr. Seward, while suffering from a broken arm, was also stabbed by another murderer in his own house, but still survives; and his son was wounded supposed to be fatally. It is believed by persons capable of judging that other high officers were designed to share the same

Thus it seems that our enemy, despairing of meeting us in manly warfare, begins to resort to the assassin's tools. Your General does not wish you to infer that this is universal, for he knows that the great mass of the Confederate army would scorn to sanction such acts; but he believes it the legitimate consequence of rebellion against right. ful authority. We have met every phase which this war has assumed, and must now be prepared for it in its last and worst shape—that of assassins and guerrillas. But woe unto the people who seek to ex-pend their wild passions in such a manner, for there is but one dread result.

The Raleigh Standard on the Situation.

New York, April 26 .- The Raleigh Standard of the 17th says: The revolution has failed. Mr. Lincoln has made good his declaration that he would "hold, occupy and possess the forts and other property of the United States, and that he would enforce the laws of the Nation." The most ultra secessionist must now see that further resistance would be folly, madness, murder It calls for reorganization, and declares that the Governor and Legislature elected by force and fraud do not reflect the wishes or the will of the people. Patronage and the bayonet have controlled everything. We are authorized by Gen. Sherman to state that if Governor Vance and the Leg-islature will return they will be protected

If they do not, they must not complain is steps are taken to supersede them. The next day this paper said: Davis has fled, Vance has fled, Smith has fled, secession is dead, treason has been extinguished in its own blood, and the old flag once more waves proudly over the Capitol of every State. Thank God for it. The peace so long looked for and labored for by the true men of this State has at last arrived. Let those who have identified themselves with the Davis and Vance despotisms prepare to retire to private life. Politically, they are doomed men for all time to come Collision on the Potomac.

BALTIMORE, April 26 .- Yesterday morning at 12:30 the steamer Massachusetts, with a load of soldiers, the greater portion of whom were exchanged and paroled prison-ers, collided with a steamer named the Black Diamond, a small barge propeller, on the Potomac river, one mile from Black-stone Island, which was acting there as a picket boat, and had on board a guard of some twenty men. The Massachusetts struck the Black Diamond on the port side about the boiler, sinking her in about three minutes. The Massachusetts lay near the spot fill daylight, picking up about a hundred men who either jumped or were thrown by the force of the collision on to the wreck of the Black Diamond. From gentlemen of intelligence who have reached this city on toot from Danville, we have some interesting particulars of events that occured there after the surrender of Lee's army. When this event became known in town and surrounding country, a crowd of citizens of all classes, ages and colors, and a large number of soldiers, collected around the buildings in which were stored immense quantities of commissary stores, and after a short deliberation made a general rush upon the establishments. The parties in chaege of the stores at first attempt ed to resist the mob, but were quickly forced to desist and seek their own safety in flight. The mob scattered throughout every part of the buildings, each person plandering according to his or her fancy. In one of the buildings it appears there was a large quantity of ammunition, gunpowder in kegs and percussion caps. The soldiers and country people swarmed around the powder, eager to secure it for fowling purposes. While they were thus engaged, by some means fire communicated to the powder, and in an instant the building and its contents, including over fifty persons, were blown to atoms. This horrible tragedy for a time put a cheek upon the plundering, which, however, soon recommenced, but with some what more circumspection. Ex-Gov. Extra Billy Smith was in Danville when our informant left. He had been talking a good deal about his determination never to surrender, saying that sooner than succumb he would turn bushwhacker, guerrilla, or something of that sort. Notwithstanding this, our informant learned just before leaving that Extra Billy had sent a flag of truce to General Meade, the object of which had not transpired. We may mention in this connection a report which has obtained circulation here, that citizens of Lynchburg either requested or compelled the ex-Governor to leave the town.

The Funeral Train at Albany. ALBANY, April 26.—From the time last night the remains of President Lincoln were deposited in the Capitol until now, persons have been pressing through to see the honored dead. This morning the line of people extends at least a mile, one half of those composing it being ladies. The coffin has been again strewn by ladies with flowers. The cars and steamboats this morning have brought additional thousands to the city. The funeral party are enter-tained by the corporate bodies at the Delavan House. All the buildings are draped with mourning. Among the most touching mottoes on house fronts are the following "The heart of the nation throbs heavily a the portals of the tomb;" "Let us resolve that the martyred dead shall not have died in vain." The latter is believed to be an extract from Mr. Lincoln's Maryland Fair re-

A low estimate fixes the number of strangers here to-day at 30,000. All morning extra trains and excursion boats brought arge numbers of people from the surrounding country, many coming a distance of 100 or 200 miles. Never before were such multitudes gathered at the Capital. Everybody seemed to fully participate in the olemnities of the occasion.

At 1 o'clock the military, the fire department and civic societies began to form, and at 2 o'clock the coffin was closed. From 1 A. M. until 2 P. A body of troops was sent to break up the meeting, but as they ap-proached the ring-leaders of the secessionists fortified themselves in a house and fired at the soldiers, wounding two of them. The fire was returned by the soldiers and several of the secessionists were wounded. The whole party then surrendered.

The Negroes in the New York Procession.

NEW YORK, April 26 .- The World says One of the striking features of the funeral procession yesterday was the applause showered upon the representatives of the colored race upon the line of march in the wealthier parts of the city. The scene in 5th Avenue was one continued ovation to the negroes, who were compelled to keep their heads uncovered for miles in acknowl-edgment of the plaudits of the male specators and the waving of the handkerchief of the ladies in the windows. Yesterday it was discovered that this person had attempted to take his own life by butting his head against the iron walls of his prison. It was found that he had beaten his head almost to a jelly and was bleeding profusely. A cap was prepared for him, padded and fastened securely upon his head, and his hands secured so that he can do himself no further injury.

News of the fall of Richmond created intense excitement in England, but it was received too late to admit of the papers commenting on it, and as most of the markets had closed from the 3d to the 17th, the effects of the news can't be fully developed till they are open.

The London Daily News says: The army of Virginia, so long deemed invincible, the pride, the hope, the center, the citadel of the Confederacy, has been not only beaten but shattered. The Dayis government is now vagrant and fugitive. Richmond, which received it and gave it for a time a dignity which it could never have acquired while it remained among the cotton plantations, where it had its rise, was set on fire by its deporting guests. That the Confederate army fought with all its old tenacity, we cannot doubt; but it has been broken up by men who, as we have often been told, having been formed, commenced to move over the prescribed route. It was comcarry it where food for the torch awaited city, the 24th and the Light House Battery the Southern armies in populated cities; but of Troy, the State and City authorities, the nothing but an execution, while Davis set civic orders. The military was about 2,000 his borrowed Capital in flames and de-

SPAIN.—The Paris correspondent of the London Times says that the disturbances at Madrid were more serious than heretofore stated. On the evening of the 12th an assemblage in the street was suddenly dispersed by a volley of musketry. The troops fired right and left. Several were killed and fifteen wounded. No provocation was given on the part of the people. No proc-lamation had been issued to warn the people, or prevent their moving about the
